7th Annual Black History Month Film Festival – Solutions Through Film February 7, 12-8pm
AFI Silver Theatre, 8633 Colesville Road, Silver Spring MD, 20910

Men Can Stop Rape and the Men of Strength (MOST) Club are pleased to announce its 7th Annual Black History Month Film Festival – Solutions Through Film. Centered on the theme "Hearing and Supporting Young Women of Color," the festival will showcase three thought-provoking documentaries: The Souls of Black Girls, the award-winning The Boys of Baraka, and the New York Times Critics' Pick Very Young Girls.

Hosted by the Men of Strength Club, a male teen violence prevention program sited in every Washington, DC public high school, Solutions Through Film uses eye-opening films and dynamic workshop discussions to open communication across barriers in gender, age, and race. MOST Club is a program of Men Can Stop Rape, a nonprofit that works worldwide in engaging young men to end violence against women.

Go to WWW.MENCANSTOPRAPE.ORG to purchase single session, half-day session, and full-day session passes. Half-day and full-day sessions include a catered lunch. Tickets can also be purchased at the door. Discounts are available for high school and college students. E-mail questions to info@mencanstoprape.org.

Foreign Assistance in a Time of Crisis: Priorities for a New Administration, Thursday, January 29, 12:00 - 2:00 pm
SAIS Kenney Auditorium, Nitze Building, 1740 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036 - Metro: Dupont Circle (red line)

Presented by the Project on Middle East Democracy (POMED) and the SAIS International Development Program.

In this panel discussion, speakers will explore questions about the current predicament and future prospects of foreign assistance. How will the economic crisis affect the incoming administration's foreign assistance priorities? Is the next president likely to increase or decrease aid to the Middle East? Will the institutional frameworks established under the Bush administration, such as the Middle East Partnership Initiative (MEPI) and the Millennium Challenge Corporation (MCC), be preserved, and if so, in what form? Which development institutions have been most effective on political reform-related criteria? What lessons about foreign assistance have been learned during the last eight years?

Please join us for a panel discussion with: Jim Kolbe, Member of the United States House of Representatives, 1985-2007; Navtej Dillhon, Director, Middle East Youth Initiative, Brookings Institution. The discussion will be moderated by Andrew Albertson, Executive Director of the Project on Middle East Democracy. Lunch will be served.

Please RSVP by contacting rsvp@pomed.org
